

DENISE LeFRAK CALICCHIO
Website Bio

Denise LeFrak Calicchio began her real estate career in 1986. Born into a prominent real estate family, her growing up years consisted of blue prints, floor plans and contracts. Denise worked in the family business, LeFrak Organization, for several years. A specialist in Manhattan real estate at Sotheby's International Realty (SIR) since 1991, Denise has represented some of the most exclusive properties in New York. Her reputation as an effective broker stems from her talent of knowing how to close a deal!

Denise's many interests include charitable and cultural pursuits. As a trustee of Marymount College, she was active in setting and maintaining the standards of post-secondary education. She travels extensively with the Guggenheim Museum and her museum involvements also include serving as the Co-Chair of the Patrons' Circle of The Guggenheim Museum and participating as a member of the Art and Museum Committee and also the International Director's Council. Denise resides in New York City with her husband.
