

TREVOR AUGUSTUS BROWN

Trevor Augustus Brown was born in Kingston, Jamaica, but a lifetime of living in New York City has infused his photographs with an intensity and vigor common to the "Big Apple". He has done advertising for some of Americas and the worlds most famous brands. His editorial work has appeared in magazines from Town & Country to Playboy, and his photographs on book jackets has won him many awards.

For "High Rise Low Down" he has employed a visual technique called "Paintography", that uses hand-painting to add another dimension to his original photographic images.

His hobbies are speed skating and freestyle Frisbee.